The Car that the Kaiser was supposed to be a set of solid silver harness, but Wilhelm discovered that it was only plated. This is very like "looking a gift horse in the mouth."

A New York heiress is to marry the head waiter of her hotel. She has probably concluded that it will be better and cheaper than paying his tips.

Mr. PARNELL still insists that he is the leader of the Irish party in parliament. As a consequence, his participation in debate causes an immediate disturbance. Timothy Healy never loses an opportunity to repudiate Parnell.

The Russian Customs Commission has recommended an increase of duty on silks, woolens, dressed leather, and iron. They also propose to tax jute, sulphur, and other raw products. Fifty per cent of the imports will be taxed under this scheme.

Dr. Hale a Boston doctor, the state of an expert, makes the statement that San Francisco has the worst climate in the world. Great confidence may be had in his opinion, unless he pronounces the climate of Boston the best in the world.

It is rumored that Blaine has conceived a plan by which he will undoubtedly put an end to the seal controversy with Great Britain. It is to have all of the seals killed this season and then there will be nothing left to seal. This will settle the question forever.

COMPETITION is sharp between rival showmen for the chair of Sittling Bull, and his two widows, now in possession, are holding out for a good price.

There is no strife for the mortal tabernacle of his habitation which he "shucked off" while resisting arrest. He wouldn't hold water when the scouts last saw it.

The United States engineers have begun to make survey for the great Pan-American railroad. This will be the greatest railroad enterprise ever known, and its line will be an artery through which the energy of the people of the United States will revolutionize the social and political conditions of Latin America.

Another set of heirs has appeared in Chicago, this time—those who claim to be the inheritors of "sixty-five acres of land on Broadway, in the heart of New York City." It seems strange that the present landowners of the metropolis can sleep at night, when the "rightful owners" of great tracts of New York are springing up so plentifully all over the country.

SEVERAL ships have reached American ports with yellow fever on board. The New Orleans health department has taken timely action and established a quarantine. It is a most sensible course. New Orleans last year stopped a number of cases at the new station on the lonely Island of Chaudelure, and effectually stopped the spread of the malady.

THE American hog was defeated in the German Reichstag by a majority of thirty, and will hereafter remain excluded from that pork-loving Empire. The American papers which make the death of an occasional hog the basis for sensational articles about widespread disease, may be thanked for this German dislike of our pork.

ALTHOUGH the Tories win an occasional victory at the polls in England, the tide is set with gladstone and it looks like a rising tide. In the South West Leicestershire division Gladstone elected their candidate by 489 majority though at the last election the same district returned the Conservative candidate by 1135. No wonder the Conservatives are loath to enter upon a trial of strength in a general election.

A BRUTAL contest has been staged in San Francisco because one of the contestants went insane. It was an attempt to go more than six days without sleep. There was a similar exhibition in Detroit not long ago, and then, too, one of the men went crazy. It is strange what things men will do for money and notoriety, and how many people will pay money to see disgusting spectacles. Such displays should not be permitted any more than suicide is permitted when it can be forestalled.

MEMBERS of the Canadian House of Parliament are addressed by the Governor General as "Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate and Gentlemen of the House of Commons." There is a distinction here, yet it would be hard to tell which is the more complimentary title. To be a gentleman is, among other things, to be honorable, but to be honorable by courtesy title is very often to be no gentleman—at least that has been a recent experience in London, and has sometimes been noted in this country.

SOME time ago it was reported that the King of Greece was about to resign his throne and confine his life to business in London. Up to the date he has not done so; but it is now reported that he has made $8,000,000 by speculating on the London Stock Exchange. In the interests of causality now, is he not bound to apply this money for the benefit of his subjects, seeing that they furnished the capital to start with and the profit was made while his Majesty was still in their service?

AS English clergyman who has worked among emigrants for thirteen years said recently in a speech: "I have been much struck at the ignorance which prevails as to geography. A London butcher came to consult me as to emigrating to Canada, and said: 'I suppose I shall have to go through the Red Sea.' The clergy, too, have somewhat hairy notions as to geography for when I recommended Manitoba to one of my brethren for his reply: 'Why prefer Manitoba to Canada?'"

DEADLY DYNAMITE.

Tarrytown, N. Y., the Scene of a Brilliant Accident Caused by the Explosion of Dynamite.

Eighteen Men Killed, and Twenty Injured Most of Them Being Italians.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 21.—There was a horrible accident near here to-day, by which the loss of life is estimated at eighteen men killed and twenty and the injured as many more.

An engine and one flat car were conveying a load of Italian and twenty-four cases of dynamite. The train was passing Tarrytown, N. Y., when the engine exploded, and the train was wrecked. The dynamite was exploded, and the train was wrecked.

William Brannigan, the engineer of the derrick train, happened to be 150 yards from the scene of the true. He told the following story:

When the rope set fire to the first pack of dynamite, I saw the fire spread over the flat car. I saw the fire spread over the flat car. I saw the fire spread over the flat car.

George Hecker, the engineer of the train, was on the lead. Some men were on the train. Some men were on the train. Some men were on the train.

As to the number of men on the train, I am not sure. I am not sure. I am not sure. I am not sure. I am not sure.

MR. MCINTYRE, member of the Dominion parliament for the Ontario district of York, was on the train. He was on the train. He was on the train.

Memorial day will be fittingly observed in this city on Saturday next.
The full programme has not yet been decided on, the committee expecting to have it completed this afternoon.

The Transcript thinks the new train service will be of great benefit to Brainerd, as our citizens will be enabled to spend the day in Little Falls and do their shopping, returning the same evening.

Mrs. Shaneborger died this morning at her home on Bluff avenue, of the effects of an abscess. She was 26 years of age and leaves a husband and two small children. The remains will be shipped to Illinois this afternoon.

Next Friday evening occurs the Germania Maennerchor concert promises to be a very entertaining affair.
The best talent in the city is represented and the reputation of the society is enough to insure a full house.

Jerry Root and a party of friends will start on a three months' trip to the Rany Lake region on Monday of next week, in search of a good location. The party will make the trip on foot and by boat, packing their provisions and camping out.

The tenth annual ball of Pine City Lodge No. 81, B. of L. F., will occur at the roller rink on Tuesday evening of next week, and all possible arrangements are being made to make this the most enjoyable occasion yet given. The invitation committee consists of James Mackey, Harry Gross, W. E. Scott and Fred Trinder.

The board of trustees of Evergreen Cemetery Association have elected the following officers: President—L.
P. White; Secretary and Treasurer—C. M. Patek; Auditor—Sidney Hock-ridge; Trustees and Committee on Ground—Daniel Down and J. Marti.
The charge for taking care of lots was fixed at $2.50, and half lots at $1.50.

Manager Alexander wishes us to state that Lewis Morrison's "Faust" will be the greatest scenic production ever put on in Brainerd, and with the exception of a few curtains will be produced with all the electric scenery and scenic effects used in the largest theatres. Positively a great performance. Remember the date, May 28th.
Prices $1, 75 and 50 cents.

Our people were more than pleased with the performance given here on Saturday evening last by the Ivy Minstrels, of West Superior. Many people from that city accompanied the excursion, and the 3rd Reg't.
Band met them at the depot escorting the troupe through the principal streets. The visitors were well pleased at their reception here and all enjoyed the occasion.

Jack Burns was arrested on Wednesday morning on the charge of having inveigled an unmarried female under 25 years of age into a house for the purpose of prostitution, the girl being Jennie Winters whose age is 15 years. The preliminary examination took place yesterday and resulted in the dismissal of the defendant, after quite a lengthy argument.

C. S. Dailey, who has been Postmaster Miller's deputy for a number of months, has been offered the position of mailing clerk in the Brainerd post-office and will enter upon his duties next Monday. We are sorry to lose him, but wish him success in his new home. Postmaster Miller says he shall try to get along alone for the present, with such assistance as his wife can render.—Presto Change.

Fire was discovered in a barn on the premises of August Budka on 9th street south, near Quince, on Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock. The department was called out but the premises were so far from the nearest hydrant that it was impossible to reach it with the hose. A cow and a number of chickens were burned besides quite a number of articles stored in the barn.
The fire must have been of incendiary origin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Foster arrived in the city on Monday morning for wedding trip and were met on all hands with congratulations from friends.
The Third Regiment Band serenaded them in the evening. On Tuesday evening the Chiquitana Club, of which Mr. Foster is a member, tendered them a reception and banquet at the club rooms in Sleeper Block.
A very pleasant time followed and dancing was enjoyed until after midnight.

WORK OF THE COUNCIL.

The City Will Fight the Park Matter to the Bitter End.

The board of aldermen met on Monday evening for the transaction of regular business, with Ald. Lagerquist absent. The minutes, with slight alteration, were approved. A communication from Mayor Hagberg in which he appointed F. E. Tiffany and W. Holmes special police officers without pay, was read and the appointments confirmed, the officers to serve without pay and to have same authority as regular police officers.

Claims against the city were presented and allowed as follows:

Brainerd Tribune.....$25 00

Perry Duff.....5 00

W. H. Hammett, heretofore.....65

N. E. Barber.....1 50

Richard Ross.....1 50

The matter of the assessor's salary was then taken up and a communication from Mr. Reilly was read, in which he stated that he desired the matter adjusted before he began work, and $500 was mentioned as a just remuneration for his work. He also desired the city to allow him a deputy. The council after a short discussion voted him $350 for assessing and left the deputy matter as a matter of future adjustment.

The bond of the city treasurer and city engineer were then approved.
The struggle for the street commissionership then began, the first ballot giving A. A. Graham 1, J. W. Jones 2, N. Peterson 3, T. J. Halvorsen 1, Jas. Parker 1. On the fifth ballot Mr. Peterson was elected.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for meals for prisoners, with the understanding that the chief of police see to the delivering and keeping account of same.

The matter of paying sewer bond coupons to the extent of $540, which became due April 1st, was discussed and the clerk was instructed to draw an order for the amount.

The East Brainerd bridge was reported in bad condition and it was deemed advisable to replank the same, and the matter was referred to the street committee with power to act.

The matter of extending Seventh south was referred to the street committee and the city attorney.

The council went into executive session, the lobby being cleared of spectators, the matter under discussion being the suit now pending between Lake Superior & Puget Sound Land Co. and this city regarding Gregory Square. An offer had been made to City Attorney McClenahan to settle the suit by splitting the park in two parts, giving the city half and the company half. This proposition, however, did not meet with the approval of the council, and the attorney was instructed to reject the offer and let the court settle the matter.

A communication from W. Fivie regarding the disqualification of M.
Derocier to act as a police officer was read and laid on the table. President Williamson announced his standing committees as follows:

Finance and Taxes—McMurry, Ferris, Bain and Johnson.

Streets, Sidewalks and Bridges—Barber, Towers, Titze and Lagerquist.

Fire Department, Water Works and Fire Protection—Ferris, Bain, Barber and Fogelstrom.

Purchasing, Printing and City Property—Lagerquist, Johnson, Ferris and Titze.

Health, Sewerage, Police and all matters pertaining to Police—Fogelstrom, Towers, Barber and McMurry.

Electric Lights and all matters pertaining to Lightening—Titze, Towers, Johnson and Bain.

A party of Brainerd gentlemen went to Aitkin the first of the week on a fishing trip and the Age, of that place, anticipated their coming as follows: "To-morrow the finny tribe of Cedar Lake will have to submit to the inevitable and become the property of a party of anglers from the N.
P. shops, Brainerd, led to the attack by Station Agent Rice, of this city.
The party will arrive at the lake on the 5 a. m. train, and spend the day in fishing, sailing, etc., and will be composed of L. McPherson, foreman roundhouse; N. W. Wheatley, foreman blacksmith shop; F. Allen, foreman carpenter shop; G. E. Watson, fireman, and five or six other noted anglers of Brainerd."

Happily Wedded.

The marriage of Sam Goldsmith and Miss Maggie Best occurred in Southeast Brainerd last evening. Rev.
Miller officiating, they left on the early morning train for a two weeks' wedding trip. The groom is a popular Northern Pacific employe, and the bride being the daughter of Mr. I. G.
Best, an old resident here. The couple have many friends in the city who will join with the DISPATCH in extending congratulations. They will make Brainerd their future home.

Would Like More Answers.

Editor of the DISPATCH: About ten days ago I sent about sixty-five letters to different men of this city asking if they would send me the best answers they could give on this problem, viz.:

1. Why do not more men (especially young men) attend church?

2. Why more do not join the churches and take an active part in church work?

I promised to keep all names confidential, yet only a few have answered.
My object in making this request is to get at the facts, collect them and make them the subject of a lecture to young men in the near future. I wish to ask through your paper all who have not answered to please try and answer, not merely as a matter of courtesy in correspondence, but as a personal favor to me.

Yours truly,
J. W. FRIZZELL.

Emma Gray in Trouble Again.

The Minneapolis papers have been full of the adventures of an alleged procuress, who calls herself May Templeton, but who is none other than Emma Gray or Zottman, formerly of this city and who figured in an abduction case last summer. The Times says:

May Templeton, the alleged Brainerd procuress, who was arrested Monday night by Detectives King and M.
E. Doyle, in company with Genoa Bradshaw, a young girl whom it is claimed she enticed from Eau Claire, was in court yesterday upon a complaint sworn out by Sheriff Fleming, of Eau Claire, who charged her with being a fugitive from justice. She says she will not return without a requisition, and promises a fight. A requisition upon Gov. Merriam has been made by the Wisconsin authorities. Miss Templeton says that her father was judge of elections at Brainerd and will arrive to-day and assist in her defense. She says that the Bradshaw girl says that she stopped about two weeks at a place on Fourth street, where her expenses were paid by a man. She expressed a desire to return home, and promised to lead a better life. The sheriff says that she will be placed in a reformatory on her return. The Templeton woman says that her father's name is F. S. Zottman. She is a cigar-maker by trade, and says she is an adept on the piano. She says she is "not exactly a sporting woman."

Lewis Morrison in Faust.

At the opera house Thursday evening, May 28th. Read what the Minneapolis Tribune says of the performance:

At the Grand last evening the old, sweet story—yet how inexplicably sad—of Marguerite's love for Faust was told again. It was told in all the fervor of poetic language, and amid artistic surroundings. It was told with a man in the part of Mephisto to interpret it who has no peer in America in his line. Lewis Morrison's "Faust" was the production. Lewis Morrison is Mephisto. Excepting Edwin Booth's Iago, there is doubtless no creation of a stage villain to be compared with it.

The story of Faust is a sermon—a sermon on life, complete in every detail. And of this sermon Mephisto is really the preacher. The lines of his part are more than grand. They are not bombastic; they seem not to be weighty, yet there is a wealth of fine, subtle knowledge of human nature all through them, showing the universal grasp of the true genius. The impression made by Mr. Morrison is that of Bayle Bernard. It closely follows Goethe's original work.

No one can witness Lewis Morrison's Mephisto without concluding that, at least in this part, he is a great actor. He breathes the very soul of the part. As the fiend incarnate, he is no ordinary stage villain. As Mephisto the prince of villains, so is Morrison the prince of stage villains. In form and feature he is fitted for the part. As a reader he is an artist. His voice is pleasant and expressive. His every gesture is as graceful as a woman's, and it tells a story. His appreciation of the spirit of the lines is that of the close student. The harmonious blending of all these attributes it is that makes the great actor. Hence Morrison's claim to greatness.

The unfolding of his powers begins in Faust's cell. "I know a maiden—a pure and lovely girl," he says. And the way he says it! The mere words convey little. The tone, the inflection, the gesture, the glance of the eye —all these make it a promise and such a promise as no woman could convey.
It would almost be a pleasure to be drawn into sin in such a manner. At the end of the first act, after Faust sees Marguerite and swallows the bait, he glows over his prize. And again, at the end of the second act, when Valentine is dead, he exults again. The portrayal is simply devil-ish.

In the second act, in the scene with Martha, he assumes a different guise —the flatterer, the mild deceiver.
And it is rare comedy. For Mephisto is not always a fiend. At times he is a jolly good fellow, ready to game or to make love to a woman. Morrison is always Mephisto.

Miss Florence Roberts' work as Marguerite, was the work of an artist.
She never forgot that Marguerite was a simple peasant girl and the best type of girlhood. How timidly, shrinkingly, yet joyfully does she permit Faust's advance. How she at times repels him, prompted by maiden modesty, then grieves for it. When she is finally convinced by the little flower that Faust really loves her, how unreservedly she resigns herself to him! "I have already given you too much to deny you this," she says, when Faust presses to be admitted to the house. All this is brought out clearly by Miss Roberts.

The scenic and mechanical effects are excellent, with the exception of the broken scenes, which might be improved. The incidental music, all from operatic masterpieces on "Faust" is excellent in quality and well rendered, especially the singing numbers.

COMPETITION is sharp between rival showmen for the chair of Sitting Bull, and his two widows, now in possession, are holding off for a good price. There is no strife for the mortal tabernacle of his habitation which he "slunked off" while resisting arrest. It wouldn't hold water when the scouts last saw it.

The United States engineers have begun to make the survey for the great Pan-American railroad. This will be the greatest railroad enterprise ever known, and its line will be an artery through which the energy of the people of the United States will revolutionize the social and political conditions of Latin America.

ANOTHER set of heirs has appeared in Chicago, this time—those claiming the inheritance of "sixty five acres of land on Broadway, in the heart of New York City." It seems strange that the present landlords of the metropolis can sleep at night, when the "rightful owners" of great tracts of New York are springing up so plentifully all over the country.

SEVERAL ships have reached American ports with yellow fever on board. The New Orleans health department has taken timely action and established quarantine. It is a most sensible course. New Orleans last year stopped a number of cases at her quarantine station on the lonely island of Chandeleur, and effectually stopped the spread of the malady.

THE American hog was defeated in the German Reichstag by a majority of thirty, and will hereafter remain excluded from that pork-loving Empire. The American papers which make the death of an occasional hog the basis for sensational articles about widespread disease, may be thanked for this German dislike of our pork.

ALTHOUGH the Tories win an occasional victory at the polls in England, the tides still with Gladstone, and it looks like a rising tide. In the South Leicestershire division the Gladstonians elected their candidate by 489 majority though at the last election the same district returned the Conservative candidate by 1138. No wonder the Conservatives are loath to enter upon a trial of strength in a general election.

A BRUTAL contest has been stopped in San Francisco because of the contestants' want of money. It was attempted to go more than six days without sleep. There was a similar exhibition in Detroit not long ago, and then, too, one of the men went crazy. It is strange what things men will do for money and notoriety, and how many people will pay money to see disgusting spectacles. Such displays should not be permitted any more than suicide is permitted when it can be forestalled.

MEMBERS of the Canadian House of Parliament are addressed by the Governor-General as "Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate and Gentlemen of the House of Commons." There is a distinction here, yet it would be hard to tell which is the more complimentary title. To be a gentleman is, among other things, to be honorable, but to be honorable by courtesy title is very often to be gentleman—at least that has been a recent experience in London, and has sometimes been noted in this country.

SOME time ago it was reported that the King of Greece was about to resign his throne and confine his attention to business in London. Up to the date he has not done so; but it is now reported that he has made $5,000,000 by speculating on the London Stock Exchange. In the interests of casuistry now, is he not bound to apply this money for the benefit of his subjects, seeing that they furnished the capital to start with and the profit was made while his Majesty was still in their service?

AS English clergyman who has worked among convicts for thirteen years said recently in a speech: "I have been much struck at the ignorance which prevails as to geography. A London butcher came to consult me as to emigrating to Canada, and said: 'I suppose I shall have to go through the Red Sea.' The clergy, too, have somewhat hazy notions as to geography for when I recommended Manitoba to one of my brethren for his son he replied: 'Why prefer Manitoba to Canada?'"

WORK OF THE COUNCIL.

The City Will Fight the Park Matter to the Bitter End.

The board of aldermen met on Monday evening for the transaction of regular business, with Ald. Lagerquist absent. The minutes, with slight alteration, were approved. A communication from Mayor Hagberg in which he appointed F. E. Tiffany and W. Holmes special police officers without pay, was read and the appointments confirmed, the officers to serve without pay and to have same authority as regular police officers.
Claims against the city were presented and allowed as follows:

Perry Duff.....5 00
W. Homstead, health officer.....52 65

The matter of the assessor's salary was then taken up and a communication from Mr. Reilly was read, in which he stated that he desired the matter adjusted before he began work, and $500 was mentioned as a just remuneration for his work. He also desired the city to allow him a deputy. The council after a short discussion voted him $350 for assessing and left the deputy matter as a matter of future adjustment.

An offer had been made to City Attorney McClenahan to settle the suit by splitting the park in two parts, giving the city half and the company half. This proposition, however, did not meet with the approval of the council, and the attorney was instructed to reject the offer and let the court settle the matter.

Would Like More Answers.
Editor of the DISPATCH: About ten days ago I sent about sixty-five letters to different men of this city asking if they could send me the best answers they could give on this problem, viz.:
1. Why do not more men (especially young men) attend church?
2. Why more do not join the churches and take an active part in church work?
I promised to keep all names confidential, yet only a few have answered. My object in making this request is to get at the facts, collect them and make them the subject of a lecture to young men in the near future. I wish to ask through your paper all who have not answered to please try and answer, not merely as a matter of courtesy in correspondence, but as a personal favor to me.
Yours truly,
J. W. FRIZZELL.
